COMMERCIAL HAZARDOUS WASTE DISPOSAL

Hazardous waste is everywhere.

Common examples of hazardous waste are fluorescent light tubes, cleaning products, left over paint, paint thinner, toner, all types and sizes of batteries, automotive products and most aerosol products.

Survey your supply cabinet, cupboards and storage areas. Count the number of products that carry signal words like danger, warning, toxic, flammable, corrosive or explosive. Round up the products you do not need and dispose of them—the right way. If you have a question about the correct disposal of a product, give our staff a call.

Proper disposal of hazardous waste may reduce on the job injuries, increase the life of your equipment, protect workers who handle waste and protect the environment.

Some products, like copier and printer toner cartridges, can be recycled. Other products like left over paint can be combined and reused. The interior of the Yuba-Sutter YMCA is sporting a fresh coat of our “custom blended” recycled cream paint.

Schedule an appointment to see how our staff can help you develop a legal hazardous waste disposal plan. The commercial hazardous waste disposal program is open to all Yuba-Sutter businesses, government and non-profit agencies, churches, schools and medical practices.

As a rule of thumb, if you haven't used a product within a year—you won't. Someone else might!
